PEGLER'S ANGLE

—BOSTON—It seems to me that the only English Dr. Clarence Manion has undertaken for President Eisenhower as chairman of a commission on intergovernmental affairs actually is to "brain-wash" the United States. The term "brain-washing" is relatively new, but it just refers to a clever refinement of an old police practice to be called the "third degree." It is narrowly restricted to the use of the Chinese and the Chinese and Soviet communists. It is a term used by an American journalist.

Manion is doing something that would be a denial of their civil rights which would have been shocking 25 years ago. But Roosevelt, with his Wagnas act and the Smith act, and Lee Freeman, abused all those who protested against these persecutions, calling them "Frisco," "Copperheads" and other outbursts of violence. That was the real brain-washing. Roosevelt had the manner and pater of a confidence man. In a few years he was out of the White House. He had no understanding of our rights under government and turned us into political enemies of ourselves.

Mr. Manion is doing something that the law school of Notre Dame University. Some have dared to hope that he might be made chief justice for he is a good lawyer. He has been assigned to break the terrible ers. We are furious about it, but if we weigh the matter we must admit that the government has been using the method not to brain-washing of itself.

It is obvious that our entire people have been brain-washed by the Roosevelt-Truman administrations for the last 20 years. This realization is the most important thing we know - what our constitutional rights really are. We are afraid to say it, but we are afraid of the communists and the Soviet Union, and the communists and Soviet Russia. Words which formerly had honest meanings now mean exactly the reverse of what they used to mean. We stubbornly insist on using the word "liberal" in its old, genuine meaning. We are not afraid of the word "liberal." We even know we are misunderstood when we use it.

What is a "liberal"? A New York man told me that he had heard of this question a few years ago in with a dozen savants of more or less equal intelligence, they wrote their "interpretations." They were so dishonest and so badly informed that they got the meaning of the word "reactionary" all wrong themselves and floundered all over the space allowed them. On the whole, however, a "liberal" is a man who is not a political bigot and tyrant because they all were advocates of compulsory universalism. The "liberal" is the man of our age in the United States next to the military druff.

There is a new breed of liberal liberals in the country. But those who use the name "liberal" as their badge of honor are not liberals. I am I down as a reactionary. Well, I am. I sit back when I am hit. That is the only thing I am not. I am not a reactionary. I am not. Suppose then that we say I am a reactionary liberal. These two pol-

Roosevelt in promoting a policy of appeasement toward the Axis and a contempt for his widow's profiteering on our highest office for the sake of a few dollars' pretense of charity and public service. I react against Harry Truman's policy of appeasement toward the Reds and the Communists, and the 500 gift from the Congress and the vast giveaway grubbers' further enrichment, through a favorable ruling of the Internal Revenue Service, from his memoirs. I am proud to react against these things.

I react as a liberal. I believe the massive state is the enemy of freedom. It has used its terrible might to subjugate millions of our workers to the rule of arrogant scoundrels in the CIO and the AFL. These unions maintain "courts" which inflict punishment on our people which no public court in the land, including the courts martial, would dare to impose. They confiscate people's wages and sayings. They

Sonnichsen Repeats Vows in Church Nuptials

Donna Wheeler, Layton, Utah, was maid of honor. Bridesmaids were Lorraine Jensen, Mrs. Sonnichsen, and Mrs. Raymond Clark, sister of the bridegroom. Lynn Meeks was the flower girl.

Fluorin Nelson served his brother as best man and ushers were Raymond Clark, brother-in-law of the bridegroom, and James Eakin. The candles were lighted by Norma Nelson, sister of the bridegroom, and Carol Nelson, cousin of the bridegroom.

Organ wedding music was played by Mrs. Gerald Bellinger, soloist, accompanied Winfield Kirchner, soloist.

Mrs. Sonnichsen chose a winter white fall afternoon dress with black and white accessories. Mrs. Nelson was attired in a beige silk shantung afternoon dress with black accessories. Both wore coronas of pink roses.

A reception held in the church parlors followed the ceremony. A four-tiered pink and white wedding cake, which centered the refreshment table decorated with draped amaranth and gladiolus blossoms, was cut by Mrs. J. E. Young, Mrs. Ern Sawyer and Mrs. B. W. Williams.

The guest book was attended by Edith May Young and the gifts were displayed by Jackie Lavena, Patsy Darnall and Shirley Toler.

Mr. and Mrs. Nelson chose a two-piece blue fall dress with navy blue and white accessories and the corsage from their bride bouquet.

Before her marriage, she was honored at showers given by Miss Darnall and Miss Toler at the Jerome Country club and by the Kennedy Sisters.

The bride was graduated from Jerome high school in 1927 and attended the University of Idaho. She is a member of the Beta Sigma chapter of the Phi Kappa Phi Honor Society.

Care of Your Children
By ANGELO PATRI

Slow children, those who don't take kindly to schoolwork, often worry their parents more than they should. Because their reactions are slow, the teacher is bound to report it to their parents.

As long as a child is able to make his way to school and there show that he is capable of doing 60 percent of the work his mother and father need not be too much concerned.

So far, as academic work is concerned, it is not all education. There are plenty of tasks to be done by those who are not college graduates, or even high school graduates.

As an illustration, I will tell about a 17-year-old girl who, through mastering every effort on her part and also with the help of her teachers and her mother, just managed to reach the second year of high school. That, apparently, is her limit. She cannot get past that grade.

These slow-study school children can be helpful to the home, and, perhaps, to their community in non-academic ways. They are encouraged to have faith in themselves. They should not be expected to devote themselves to a field for which their minds are not suited.

They should be tried in the school shops, laboratory, kitchen, cafeteria, or in the military, dressmaking, and housekeeping departments. Others might improve their minds by recreation and dancing on the playing fields and in the gymnasium. Adults should watch them for any hint that might make a good start in a new field.

One boy I knew was put to work in every available place in school with little or no success. He had been wanted to be a musician. Later, to the surprise of most persons who knew him, he found a job with an orchestra leader, who explained the cause by saying: "He can't read, but he can play."

British Paper Hits Criticism Of Pact Stand

LONDON, Sept. 22 (AP)—The "American-baiting" season is in full swing in Britain, Lord Beaverbrook's Daily Express said today.

"For those who enjoy the sport it is one of the best seasons in record," the newspaper which claims a circulation of more than four million said in an editorial.

The Express said that Laborite Clement R. Attlee, leader of the opposition in parliament, "leads the hunt."

Want Quarrel

"He is out at it every week-end and sometimes on working days too," the newspaper said. "Ramp-bang he goes, with a right and a left, and every one is a damaging shot."

The Express said the "America baiters" want to "kick a quarrel with America's approach to the Korean peace talks."

"It is a ridiculous and despicable objective," the newspaper said.

Is Business Of U. S.

"From start to finish the Korean war was mainly American business. It started as a result of a bold and idealistic American impulse. It was carried through to victory mainly as a result of American effort and sacrifice," the Express said.

The newspaper said that the right of the United States to take the lead in settling the Korean question "should not be disputed."

"British should support the Americans," the newspaper said. "For it is absurd to suppose that they will embroil themselves in more fighting if they can possibly avoid it."

Frost Runs Ahead Of Autumn Debut

Autumn wasn't due to make its official debut until 4:07 a.m. EDT tomorrow, but frost already gnipped large areas of the upper Midwest.

Topcoat weather was general throughout the Mississippi valley, great lakes area and plains states and forecasters said a mass of cool air was pushing steadily eastward, but warming as it went.

Frost conditions were reported in Minnesota, Iowa, Wisconsin, parts of upper Michigan and northern Illinois, and the mercury in those areas ranged from as low as 28 to 40 degrees early today.

In almost all areas, it was the first frost of the year—and the killing effect on crops was not yet known.

Farm Revises Are Overdue, Morse States

GALVESTON, Tex., Sept. 22 (AP)—Undersecretary of Agriculture Fred D. Morse said today improvements in government farm programs, particularly regarding livestock and livestock feed production, "are long overdue."

Under present price support programs, Morse said, many farmers are "producing corn for the government" rather than feeding it to livestock.

The administration's "far-reaching study" of how to get more "workable" farm programs, Morse said, will lead to "sound recommendations to congress when new farm legislation" comes up for consideration next year.

In a speech prepared for delivery before the Grain and Feed Dealers National association, he said the "unusual" failure of farmers to respond to a very profitable corn-hog ratio "raised the question of whether it has become too easy to merely raise corn to sell to the government—rather than to go to the trouble of feeding hogs when it more profits are realized."

Now, he said, feeder cattle prices are being held down because of high price supports on corn and other feed grains.

Whoa!

DIERHORN, Sept. 22—Probate Judge Dwight LaGrange, a sincere and constant worker for traffic safety, was embarrassed by his uncooperative automobile.

He and Mrs. LaGrange had just returned home from Shoshone and were visiting some packages from the automobile when the car took off down the slight incline on an independent enterprise.

Mrs. LaGrange reacted immediately. Driving her pack-ages she took off on a dead run, catching the car by a door handle. She pulled and hung back but the car didn't stop. So she opened the door and climbed inside just in time to accompany the car into Ben Walker's irrigation ditch.

No damage was done to the car. The irrigation ditch or the dropped packages and Mrs. LaGrange was uninjured.

A 30-Year Dream Coming True!

He used to stand on the curb in front of his father's house—and watch the Cadillacs sweep majestically by—carrying fine ladies and gentlemen on happy excursions.

That's when the dream started in his heart—and refused to leave.

Six times, before today, he has signed his name to an application for a motor car title—and, on every occasion, he knew it was a compromise.

But not this time! He is taking the keys to a beautiful 1953 Cadillac—and his 30-year-old dream is coming true.

And what a fulfillment it will be, as he rolls out into the highway and takes the longest way home!

First of all, he'll get those quick glances of approval which tell him the dream he dreamed for so many years is still in the hearts of others.

And then the car's great performance will begin to unfold itself.

Silence—almost complete silence—just the soft sound of the wind slipping by—the quickest, easiest response to the accelerator he has ever imagined...steadiness and roadability and handling ease that remove all but the merest effort from managing the car.

And oh, what marvelous comfort! It's like sitting in the easiest chair conceivable—and moving smoothly and effortlessly through space.

And then, almost before he knows it, he'll be home—and in the driveway—with the family rushing out with the final voice of confirmation.

Man—this was worth waiting and working for!

And, of course, the years and the miles will add their proof as to the wisdom of his choice: dependability—long life—economy of upkeep and operation—and unusual resale value.

Yes, there is every practical reason for owning a Cadillac—as well as every personal one.

Better come in and see us today. It's probably easier than you think to make your dream of Cadillac ownership come true.
